

Art & Religion/An Intersection: Three Lunch Talks

Join us for a look at our shared and unique cultural history through the lens of religious art.
Three free talks include delicious catered lunch.

The Power of the Arts and St. John's Episcopal Church will host three free lunch-talks to promote an understanding of historical religious art and architecture.

Three consecutive talks, Fridays Sept. 14, 21, 28.
Lunch served at 11:30, talks from 12-1.

Sept. 14: Religious Art History with art historian Adam Sullivan
Sept. 21: Curating Religious Art with art historian Dr. Mary Manning
Sept. 28: Engaging Community Through Religious Art with art historian Dr. Mary Manning

Talks are free and include lunch. All at St. John's.
323 Wick Ave. Next to the public library. Across from Jones Hall.

Register by September 5:

<https://www.powerofthearts.org/poa-new-projects-events>

